

Building Collaborative Spaces and Stories Using Soundtrap

This session will introduce teachers to Soundtrap and provide them with resources that will support in elevating and amplifying the social and emotional skills students need to be creative and collaborative with music and audio creation. During this session, be prepared to engage in collaborative dialogue that will inspire you to incorporate podcasting and music making in your classrooms using components of PBL + SEL strategies. This session will walk teachers through the process of creating interactive audio experiences that highlight student collaboration and creativity.

Thursday, May 13, 2021

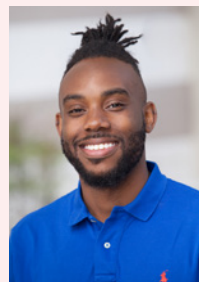

3:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

REGISTRATION REQUIRED:

No Cost

REGISTER AT:

<http://rcoe.k12oms.org/485-200867>

Jostin Grimes is the western region educational specialist at Soundtrap, where he is responsible for training, supporting, and creating initiatives that highlight collaboration and voice amplification so teachers and students can create using Soundtrap. Jostin was an elementary educator in Atlanta, Georgia where he taught

K-1 ELA. He's a strong advocate for amplifying Black and brown voices to capture authentic stories and music creation.

(—) Soundtrap[®]
by Spotify